Clarification

This letter serves to clarify the changes and redirection that occurred during today's work session.

Due to delays in progress and changes in the initial idea of the invento_system project, our team leader made the decision to restructure the project. The aim was to ensure the system has a well-organized and scalable structure before moving forward with full development.

While the team lead was working on reorganizing the invento_system architecture, I was temporarily assigned to support the mobile development on the Abyride Client App. This shift allowed me to stay productive and contribute to another active module within our ecosystem.
